She said that an entrepreneur is an individual who creates in one or more business. This process of setting an own business and creating job opportunities for many is called entrepreneurship. The entrepreneur is commonly seen as an innovator, a source of new ideas, goods services and business; or we can say it is the process of launching and running a new business. They are rewarded for this effort and therefore both the consumer of the value created and the entrepreneur are benefitted. She told that entrepreneurship is like an eco-system which also includes:

- It includes business incubators and seed accelerators.

She told the participants that by developing their soft-skills they can become more productive at work; It will increase their self-confidence; they will get improved job-satisfaction; they will generate adaptability to any circumstances.
